FOREWORD

Academic growth of a country is the key to economic development today. It is an accepted fact that a nation which is educationally more advanced and technically more sophisticated will always have an edge on those which are relatively lagging behind. Bringing modern education to the doorsteps of youth, without putting undue financial strain on the finances of their parents/guardians is the cherished ambition of all public sector universities in the country and they are shouldering this responsibility to the utmost in comparison with the financial/material resources being provided to them by the government.

The three educative domains of good institutions of learning are (i) cognitive domain where more and more knowledge is gained by the learners (ii) Inductive domain where they build up their capabilities to apply the learnt knowledge for the solution of personal and professional problems and (iii) the behavior domain which prompts them to go for peaceful and altruistic living. This third domain, contrary to general perception, is the most important one, as the opportunity of getting higher education with open minds should make the students more tolerant towards people who hold opinions and values different from their own. Educated people are, more or less, prone to logical reasoning. They are intrinsically inclined to follow ethically cleaner paths instead of being blinded by instincts and emotions.

At the same time knowledge has become the most important contributor to professional and economic development of nations. The increasing share of knowledge in the world economy and the power dominance of the developed countries leave no room for the developing countries like Pakistan to ignore the three essentials of the knowledge foundation i.e. education, software development and research oriented development.

Realizing the paramount importance of higher education, the existence of a premier institution like BUIITEMS in a comparatively under privileged part of the country, gives assurance that avenues of personal and national development are being opened in Balochistan, as well.

In spite of the resource handicaps and the air of political uncertainty, this institution is working for the betterment of the lot of people through sheer determination and dedication of purpose. Balochistan University of Information Technology, Engineering and Management Sciences, is holding its 6th Convocation at the end of year 2010.

403 graduates are to receive their Bachelors' and Masters' degrees with the assurance that their capacities and services would be eagerly sought in the job market, because there exists ample proof of employers' trust in the quality of education being imported at this university.

May Allah Almighty bless our endeavors with success

Message from
Nawab Zulfiqar Ali Magsi
Governor Balochistan/Chancellor BUITEMS

It is a matter of great satisfaction for me that the Balochistan University of Information Technology, Engineering and Management Sciences is holding its 6th Convocation on 30th November, 2010.

Convocations are the most important landmarks in the life of a student and proud recipients of degrees and medals will carry memories of this significant occasion throughout their lives. The occasion is equally important for the Institution itself as it provides and opportunity to evaluate its performance and its contribution towards the society it serves.

I am sure the graduating students will contribute with devotion and dedication towards the socio-economic development of society and nation and distinguish themselves in their personal and professional lives and bring laurels to their Alma-mater.

I congratulate the organizers of the Convocation as well as the recipients of degrees and medals and wish them all success.

Message from
Nawab Mohammad Aslam Raisani
Chief Minister Balochistan

The history of mankind is replete with examples that the people had to struggle hard to attain economic prosperity. Only those nations progressed and ruled the world which developed their educational systems. It is absolutely clear that Japan, Singapore and South Korea progressed on the basis of education with special emphasis on skilled education.

I believe that the enormous efforts put in by The Balochistan University of Information Technology Engineering & Management Sciences to hold the 6th annual convocation are directly related to the mental and intellectual uplift of the society.

On this occasion I congratulate the Vice Chancellor of BUIITEMS, Engr. Ahmed Farooq Bazai, the university administration and all the faculty members of BUIITEMS. I appreciate their contribution to the educational uplift of the province. I extend my best wishes to all the graduating students and their parents. I expect the graduates and the post graduates would perform the assigned responsibilities in the professional circles, in a responsible manner and earn a good name for themselves and for their university.

Message from
Dr. Javed R. Laghari
Chairman, Higher Education Commission Pakistan

I am pleased to know that Balochistan University of Information Technology Engineering and Management Sciences (BUIITEMS) is holding its 6th Convocation. I extend my warm felicitations to the Vice Chancellor BUIITEMS, the learned faculty and graduating students at this important occasion.

Universities in any country stand as symbols of enlightenment, enterprise and advancement. The sweat of scholars engaged in the noble task of ‘knowledge generation’ is termed as the ‘elixir of progress’, as their endeavors lead to new discoveries, new inventions and innovations. The investment made by a nation in the development of “Human Capital” guarantees future prosperity and emancipation from narrow mindedness and irrational approaches in life.

Public sector universities in Pakistan are struggling hard to carry out their cherished ambition of growth and expansion. Inadequate financial inputs on the part of the nation are hampering their smooth progress. Government alone cannot be expected to finance higher education in the country as more and more institutions are being established to cater to the needs of our fast growing population. The industrialists, the business community and big landlords, all have to re-fix their priorities and come forward to bail the universities out of the financial crunch.

It is heartening to learn that BUIITEMS has constantly been moving ahead in terms of academic growth and infra-structure development. The Higher Education Commission (HEC) is committed in supporting all developmental endeavors to the best of our support capabilities. We have already succeeded in salvaging the state of resource dryness to some extent and hope to continue making more inroads.

HEC stands firmly with the universities and appreciates the contribution of BUIITEMS in bringing about a techno-scientific-industrial breakthrough in the country.

May Allah help us in our endeavors!

Introduction by
Engr. Ahmed Farooq Bazai
Vice Chancellor BUITEMS

In spite of the tremendous resource shortage obstacles cropping unexpectedly out of the government decision to cut down funding to the public universities, BUITEMS Succeeded in maintaining the tempo of growth and expansion. This could only be possible through unrelenting focus on quality and excellence by the university administration and the faculty. Their persistent emphasis on hard work inspired everyone to achieve new goals and bring laurels to the institution.

BUITEMS follows the philosophy of quality and excellence in education. Our main focus is on hard work, intellectual rigor and capacity building of the faculty, so that they may succeed in inculcating similar traits of character in their taught. Seventy three of our young faculty members are currently pursuing higher studies abroad. The feedback on their academic accomplishments has, so far, been very encouraging and hart-warming.

The university has developed strong links with institutions of national and international repute and succeeded in inducting foreign qualified, highly capable and renowned academicians in service. They aim at developing dependable human resources groomed in moral, social and ethical upbringing for the bright future of Pakistan in general, and for an economically stable Balochistan, in particular.

Academic excellence would be un-imaginable without the provision of physical environment and facilities on the campus. One of the most impressive features of BUITEMS has been the continuous growth in all fields i.e. growth in capable human resources, growth in infra-structure, growth in laboratory facilities, growth in students strength, growth in numbers of programs of studies and growth in co-curricular/ extracurricular activates.

After a protracted process, the university has succeeded in acquiring the services of about half a dozen faculty members holding PhDs. In addition to such top academicians, the university has also acquired the services of fifteen Assistant Professors and twelve young but energetic lecturers. With such an addition to the galaxy of our faculty, there has been a sizeable increase in the quality and range of academic instructions imparted to the students.

Our quest for academic excellence is furthered on the four fundamental pillars; the students, the faculty, the curricula and on politics-free environment conducive to learning. The university is moving ahead with the resolve that we shall not only follow the standards, but also set new standards of excellence; we have succeeded in putting together curricula which meet the demands of the present age. We have been emphasizing the element of research, both on the part of the teachers and the taught and we are happy to point out that a number of research papers of our faculty have been published in reputed national and international journals. A research Directorate has been established with the object of developing, expanding and managing BUIITEMS research programs and to link research activities directly to the educational, social and economic priorities of the university and the broader community.

In the wake of present financial crunch and debilitating dependence of the public sector universities on govt. funding, BUIITEMS has worked on exploring new avenues for fund generation. The Directorate of university Advancement and Financial Assistance (UA&FA) has been established with the intention of building and maintaining relationships based on fidelity and integrity to raise funds for BUIITEMS advancement.

The university has expanded the range of program offerings on job market demand. With focus on quality and standards acceptable world-wide, the following demand-based programs of study have been offered at BUIITEMS:

- BS degree in Architecture
(5 years degree program)
- BS degree in Food Technology
(4 years degree program)
- BS degree in Fine Arts
(4 years degree program)
- BS degree in Plants Sciences & Information
(4 years degree program)
- BS degree in Microbiology & Pathology
(4 years degree program)

The university managed to purchase 4 buses with the object of facilitating the students commuting from different parts of the city and between the campuses.

An international quality Introductory Documentary of BUIITEMS has also been prepared. The movie exhibits the university set-up, academic offerings, physical facilities and academic and administrative processes and achievements. The documentary supplemented by commentary serves as a medium to attract potential students and the society at large. The repute of BUIITEMS as a premier institution of higher education is constantly spreading and will, inshaAllah, keep on spreading in future, too.

Engr. Ahmed Farooq Bazai

In the name of Allah, the most Benevolent, the most Merciful!

Honorable Chancellor Nawab Zulfiqar Ali Magsi, Members of the University Senate, distinguished guests, valuable passing-out graduates, their proud parents, ladies and gentlemen!

Assalam-o-alaikum!

It is an honor for me to welcome you all to the 6th convocation of BUITEMS. I am grateful to you for being with us today to mark the important occasion when hard work of students has reached the state of fruition in the form of award of degrees. Today's recognition of diligence has resulted out of a team work for which the learned faculty, the university administration, the students and their parents all deserve credit. I specially congratulate the graduates passing out today, because it is a remarkable day in their lives. We all remember the day of our graduation and the day we got married.

Honorable Mr. Chancellor,

We, at BUITEMS, are specially indebted to you, sir, for your supporting patronage of the university at all times of difficulty. Your moral and material support has sustained us in challenging situations. We look forward to your continued patronage in the wake of the financial crunch and debilitating cuts in government funding.

Respected Ladies and Gentlemen,

It is a matter of pride for us that BUITEMS has succeeded in making numerous forward strides in spite of the financial crunch imposed by the federal government. This has been possible through the stringent measures taken by the university for plugging the scope of wastefulness or mismanagement. We have opened fresh vistas of enterprise and, thus, have accomplished in a short time, what would otherwise have taken years to accomplish.

I may not be out of the way to mention here that the university has recently established the Directorate of Research in the BUIITEMS set up. The Directorate is responsible for managing, developing and enhancing the pace and scope of research activities on the campuses. We have at the same time established the Directorate of University Advancement and Financial Assistance, which is committed to fostering mutually beneficial relations with alumni, trust foundations, corporate sector, international partners and people and institutions from all walks of life. Through the services of this Directorate, the university aims at raising funds for the growth and advancement of BUIITEMS. The Directorate has started cultivating friendship with supporters of BUIITEMS and is promoting strong positive institutional image of the university.

Honorable Mr. Chancellor,

BUIITEMS is following the policy of expanding the range of program offerings at the university in accordance with the job market demands. Besides focusing on quality and diversity of the existing programs of studies, six new programs have been offered. Students from Balochistan have now access to BS (Architecture), BS (Food Technology), BS (Fine Arts), BS (Plant Sciences & Information), BS (Micro Biology & Pathology) and BS (Civil Engineering) at their doorsteps and need not go elsewhere in pursuit of studies in said disciplines. The students access to higher education has also been facilitated through the purchase of 4 buses for the students commuting from different parts of the city and between the campuses. We have consolidated our laboratories, too. The faculty of Life Sciences has acquired latest equipment related to DNA testing, Vaccine production, genetic engineering and micro biological studies.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

If you visit the university web-site, you will surely notice that it has been completely revamped. The need to revise the web-page arose in the light of constant and ever-growing changes and developments at the campuses. The re-furbished web-site now offers more categorized information pertaining to various aspects of the university life and functions. I'm sure you'll find the change to be more informative and more pleasant.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

While you were waiting for the commencement of the proceedings today, you must have seen an informative documentary depicting different facets of the university. This documentary has been prepared to highlight, in a nut-shell, the university set-up, program offerings, physical facilities laboratory experiments, academic activities and administrative processes for the benefit of viewers.

It serves as a medium of projection of BUIITEMS's image to the masses, especially to the advantage of prospective students and to attract qualified and competent teaching faculty.

These are just a few high lights of BUIITEMS set-up which I have referred to. There are many aspects of the university which are noticed as unique by those who find time to visit this institution. The over-all feed back of public opinion about BUIITEMS is very refreshing and very encouraging and this recognition from the civil society spurs us on to keep on working with more zeal and enthusiasm.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Let me now say a few words to the passing-out graduates. I offer my heartiest greetings on your achievement. The university is today handing you a trust. It is the trust in BUIITEMS fair name and ideals. It is a trust in quality and self-confidence. From now on, you are going to be the flag-bearers of BUIITEMS. We expect you to give impressive proof of your capabilities and knowledge wherever you may go in your professional life. We expect you to hold your head high with demonstration of character, courage, industry and professionalism. Our heads, the heads of your mentors will be raised high with yours. You have immense potential of bringing about a change - a positive and optimistic change. Allah Almighty will, InshAllah, be on your side.

I once again thank the Honorable Chancellor, respectable guests, ladies and gentlemen on your arrival here to see another landmark bring achieved in the short history of BUIITEMS.

Thank you all. Pakistan Painsabad

Address by the Chief Guest

Nawab Zulfqar Ali Magsi, Governor Balochistan

Engr. Ahmed Farooq Bazai Vice Chancellor BUITEMS, Members of the BUITEMS senate, Passing-Out Graduates and their parents, Ladies and Gentlemen!

Assalam-O-alaikum!

It is the 3rd time that I am here to participate in the convocation of this university, and every time impressed and pleased to see the faces of young graduates glowing with confidence of having learnt their subjects thoroughly. The past record of BUITEMS alumni in respect of their capabilities and absorption in the job market has been remarkable. It is an enviable accomplishment on the part of the university, the Vice Chancellor, the learned faculty and all the students of the university. I congratulate all of you on this achievement of the standard .

It is generally assumed that Balochistan is short of talent. BUITEMS stands as a testimony that whenever, young men and women find atmosphere conducive to the nourishment of their talent capabilities, they come out with remarkable performance. Authentic talents and hard work seldom remain un-noticed. Recently, I had the opportunity of witnessing the passing out ceremony of thousands of cadets from Balochistan being gracefully commissioned after their military training. It was a memorable experience to see smart young men holding their heads high after completing their challenging training requirements. What our students need, can be summed up in just three words: dedication, discipline and direction. When these three elements are combined together, the end-product is really appreciable.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Today's world is a world of opportunities. So much is happening around us and is happening at such quick pace that there is no room to be complacent. Such massive assortment of happenings needs equally massive man-power. Everyone can easily get his due share of opportunity in this scenario. Pakistan holds a unique position in the present world situation.

It is amazing to see that more than half of our present population is less than 20 years of age. Such a rich young component of population can not be found elsewhere. Europe and the United States which boast of their technical advancement, look to Pakistan with envy, because the majority of their own Human Resource Capital is composed of people beyond 40. It can be well-understood that the prospects of domination in future shine more optimistically here as compared to there.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Besides our tremendous youth force, we are also gifted by nature in respect of our important geographical location. We are the joining link between the East and the West. Past history has seen political, commercial and material developments and movement treading through this region. Once again, this region is destined to witness great epoch-making developments taking place. We cannot afford to miss the fruits of that phenomenon. We have to be ready and alert to jump on to the band wagon of opportunity. For that we have to be equipped with education, enlightenment and technical skills. Allah Almighty has blessed us with immense resources. We have to prepare ourselves to utilize those resources on our own. How long can we survive on foreign assistance and support? We are likely to be pushed down and trampled down if we don't acquire the capabilities of standing upright and firm on our own feet. You must have noticed that empty bags are seldom able to stand upright. Our young men and women have to fill themselves with real knowledge, solid capabilities and capacities to stand the test of modern times and to grasp the rewarding opportunities of future. They cannot survive through mere grumbling over their neglect and deprivation. They have to prove their ability to shoulder the responsibilities, and when they manage to do that, the opportunities and recognition will fly to them from all quarters.

Honorable Mr. Vice Chancellor,

I have seen BUIITEMS growing from the state of infancy to a state of stout energetic existence within the last few years. The academic atmosphere and opportunities available for the nourishment of talents are commendable. I have visited this university and witnessed with my own eyes the rapid expansion of program offerings and development of educational facilities.

All this has been done in spite of the financial stress resulting from cuts imposed on government funding. I have always wondered why all institutions in the province are not inspired by BUITEMS model to follow suit and emulate this example elsewhere.

Dear Vice Chancellor,

I am aware that universities in the province are hard hit by the drying-up of the budget allocations and fund-releases. There are so many factors which have resulted in this plight of the universities. The unhappy and unsatisfactory state of security, the unprecedented mishaps and natural calamities and the unfavorable exchange rates of Pakistani rupee have put tremendous strain on the national ex-chequer. The government, as a result, had no options left but to review the budget and re-adjust the flow of funds. Unfortunately our universities turned out to be the worst sufferers. However, we in Balochistan, understand the importance of higher education and the specific needs of our youth. I assure you that we'll take every step possible to redress the financial short-fall. You can count on that on our part.

Young Passing out Graduates,

Accept heartiest greetings on your achieving success. You owe much to your institution, to your province and to your country. Your degrees carry the stamp of genuine endeavors and industry. Now you are on the verge of entry into your professional lives. I would advise you not to be daunted by challenges. Your education and training at BUITEMS should be reflected in your professional accomplishments. Your teachers and your parents look forward to hearing your success stories. You have the guts to make their dreams come true and you must justify the confidence reposed in you today by this university. I compliment you and your parents on this glorious achievement.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

The enemies of peace in the region are out to thwart the spread of education. They are bent on creating disturbance and spreading chaos, so that the nation and, in particular, the youth should not be able to find peace. They frequently come up with schemes and conspiracies to block the smooth function of our institutions, especially the educational institutions. Their sinister moves can be checked only by being alert and vigilant against them. Every one of us needs to analyze their moves and judge their intentions cool mindedly. Emotional outbursts seldom prove to be practically effective.

You, as educated and civilized members of the society, are expected to preach sanity and wisdom. Please come out to do your duty. Motivate everyone around you to follow path of rationality, fair play and justice. The future of your society and the future of your family would brighten up in response.

Mr. Vice Chancellor,

I thank you for giving me this opportunity of participation in today's festivities. I salute the worthy faculty and organizers for their contributions to today's success. I hope to see many happy returns of this day.

Pakistan Paindabad!
